

To the Utah investment community,

The Park City Angels are pleased to announce that our members have made an investment in Nanocan Therapeutics Corporation. Nanocan Therapeutics Corporation is a Princeton, New Jersey based early stage biotechnology company developing cutting-edge, nanotechnology based innovations for therapeutic medicines to treat certain cancers where current interventions are insufficient. The Company's inventions deploy smart radiotherapy biomaterials (nanoparticle drones), as a drug-delivery platform. Nanocan's nanoparticle drones can be employed to sustainably deliver different drug payloads – including immunotherapy drugs, chemotherapy drugs, and phytomedicines – precisely to disease sites or targets, with greater therapeutic efficacy. Through its partnerships with leading academic research institutions, Nanocan is rapidly developing therapies that may ultimately result in new standards of care to help improve the lives of cancer patients. Nanocan is committed to making its disruptive innovations available to cancer patients in the U.S. and globally, including Low and Middle-Income Countries (“LMICs”), starting with countries in Africa.

We are excited about this opportunity to help Nanocan grow. As evidenced by this investment, we seek to continue promoting best practices in order to reduce risk in early-stage investments for the benefit of entrepreneurs, investors, and the community. We also make our considerable expertise across numerous industries available to our entrepreneurs, as their needs warrant.

About Park City Angels - We are a group of 75 accredited investors located in Park City looking to invest in promising opportunities that can produce significant shareholder return. As Utah's most active Angel network, we have made over 1250 investments totaling over $80M since 2008. For entrepreneurs seeking funding, please direct them to info@parkcityangels.com.

We welcome new members throughout the year. For any questions about becoming a Park City Angel, please reach out to us at membership@parkcityangels.com.

Sincerely,

Park City Angels

Want to learn more?